

ALBERTA SECURITIES COMMISSION
VARIATION ORDER

Order under section 214(1) of the
Securities Act (Alberta) (the “Act”)

Interim Variation and Revocation of Blanket Order 45-506
*Trades and Distributions to Employees, Senior
Officers, Directors and Consultants

Background

1. Whereas:
  - (a) Blanket Order 45-506 Trades and Distributions to Employees, Senior Officers, Directors and Consultants (“Blanket Order 45-506”) became effective on April 30, 2002;
  - (b) Blanket Order 45-506 provides various exemptions from the registration and prospectus requirements including in respect of trades to employees, senior officers, directors, and consultants and requires that a Form 20 report of exempt trade be filed with respect to distributions made under the Blanket Order. In contrast, subsection 131(1)(o) of the Act, which permits distributions to employees, does not require the filing of a Form 20. Currently, issuers may rely on either Blanket Order 45-506 or subsection 131(1)(o) of the Act to distribute securities to employees;
  - (c) certain amendments to the Act, including the repeal of subsection 131(1)(o) of the Act, are expected to be proclaimed June 16, 2003. Upon repeal of subsection 131(1)(o) of the Act, the only exemption from the prospectus requirements specifically permitting distributions to employees will be the exemption in Blanket Order 45-506 and use of that exemption imposes a requirement to file a Form 20;
  - (d) proposed Multilateral Instrument 45-105 Trades to Employees, Senior Officers, Directors, and Consultants (“MI 45-105”) was approved by the Alberta Securities Commission (the “Commission”) on May 14, 2003 with effect on August 15, 2003. MI 45-105 will replace Blanket Order 45-506 and provide exemptions from the registration and prospectus requirements that are substantially similar to those in Blanket Order 45-506. MI 45-105 will not require a Form 20 or other report of exempt distribution to be filed in respect of any distributions made under that instrument; and
  - (e) the Commission considers that it would not be prejudicial to the public interest to vary Blanket Order 45-506 to remove the requirement to file a Form 20 in respect of distributions made under that instrument, and to revoke Blanket Order 45-506 with effect on the coming into effect of MI 45-105;

Order

2. It is hereby ordered that:
- (a) Blanket Order 45-506 is varied by repealing section 3.1, Reporting Exempt Trades;
  - (b) Blanket Order 45-506, as varied by section 2(a) of this order, is attached as a schedule to this order;
  - (c) Blanket Order 45-506 is revoked effective August 15, 2003; and
  - (d) this order is effective June 16, 2003.

SCHEDULE TO
ALBERTA SECURITIES COMMISSION ORDER DATED JUNE 13, 2003
VARYING

BLANKET ORDER 45-506

Order under subsection 144(2)
and section 213 of the Securities Act (Alberta)

Trades and Distributions to Employees, Senior Officers, Directors and Consultants

Background

The Securities Act (Alberta) currently contains registration and prospectus exemptions for employees under subsections 86(1)(u) and 131(1)(o). These exemptions allow issuers to issue securities to employees whose participation in the trade is voluntary. The policy rationale for these exemptions recognizes that employee ownership aligns the interests of employees with those of the issuer and public shareholders of the issuer, and enables the issuer to attract, retain and motivate loyal employees. Numerous applications for discretionary exemptions have shown that the current legislation does not deal adequately with current commercial practices. Many issuers now use consultants to perform roles analogous to those of employees. The current legislation defines affiliates narrowly, does not adequately address the roles of senior officers, directors, and investor relations persons, and does not recognize the widespread use of holding entities, RRSPs, or RRIFs by employees and others. The Commission considers it appropriate to address such matters in this Blanket Order.
